About Relational Leadership @ Carolina

We chose the Relational Leadership Institute's foundational program because successful interprofessional practice requires skills important to effective leadership, regardless of role or title, in order to build a community where everyone has a voice, and feels heard.

Relational Leadership™ participants will receive hands-on training with real-life application, coaching support, and additional resources. Alums of the foundational program will be encouraged to take an active role at UNC to support the IPEP vision and to participate in continuous interprofessional learning and practice.

“I left the training feeling changed and with a new appreciation for psychological safety, a new language to engage in teams, and an optimism about how to build community and relationships in my organization.”
- S. SMITHSON

Spring 2021 Program

Due to COVID-19 precautions, The Spring 2021 program will be taught remotely and occur over 6 days. All classes are from 8:30–2:00 and a commitment is required for all six dates. The dates are:

- Thurs., February 25
- Fri., February 26
- Wed., March 24
- Thurs., March 25
- Tues., April 13
- Wed., April 14

Please email Relational_Leadership@unc.edu to learn about enrollment or to ask questions.

Inclusive, Authentic, Leadership

The Office of IPEP strives to create “an inclusive mindset and community” for students, faculty, and staff to thrive at UNC by offering an interprofessional and intergenerational leadership development program.